Summer Carnival Fêtes N. Y. Scenes

• THE UNIVERSITY'S SEVENTH annual Summer Carnival, highlight of the summer recreation program, will be held July 23 from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in the University yard.

Theme of the Carnival will be "Manhattan Merry-Go-Round," using New York and its many sights as the central thought.

According to Sally Ludlow, activities director, the University yard will be divided into four sections to represent the four main parts of New York: East side, West side, Uptown and Downtown.

Each of the four divisions of the University that are open during the summer session will be responsible for one section of the Carnival. Each section will plan a ten-minute act for the main show, and plan and manage a side show.

Positions Open

Both summer and regular students are invited to participate in the Carnival. People are needed for costuming, programming, promotion, acting, make-up and numerous other positions. Those students interested may contact their school representatives for further information.

The entire show is under the direction of Elizabeth Burtner, professor of modern dance; Donald C. Kline, professor of art; Virginia Kirkbride, director of women's activities; Dr. Don C. Faith, director of men's activities, and Miss Ludlow.

The summer recreation program will open with a social dance on Lisner terrace, June 20 from 9:00 p.m. to 12:00 midnight.

A series of two Wednesday night square dances on Lisner terrace will follow. They are scheduled for July 2 and July 16 from 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The recreation program will close with a final square dance on August 1 from 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. on the terrace.

In case of rain, all dances will be held on the scheduled dates in building J, and the Summer Carnival will be held the following evening in the University yard.

Petitions Open For Old Men

• OLD MEN PETITIONS will be accepted through today and tomorrow according to Bernie Degen, Old Men president.

Old Men is an advisory organization for the benefit of new male students at the University. To date, only 100 students have petitioned for Old Men. Mr. Degen states that this will present a problem of having to double up on Old Men for the incoming new students next year; he hopes that the problem can be rectified by more men petitioning for Old Men.

Activities scheduled by Old Men for next fall's orientation season include the Glad Hand meeting, Celebrity Smoker and the Mixer with Big Sis. The petitioning fee is $50 and petitions will not be accepted without the accompanying fee.

The petitioning booth will be set up inside the Student Union from 12:00 noon to 2:00 p.m. and from 5:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. If the booth is not opened when a student wishes to petition, he may petition in the Student Activities office. Membership fee is 50c.

Dr. Don C. Faith, director of men's activities, is adviser of the group. Other officers include Dave Steinman, vice president; Hal Bergem, secretary; Dick Wills, treasurer; Marty Reichgut, functions chairman; and Jack Hoffman, registrar.

New Space Age Discussed Thurs.

• "THE ROLE OF Engineering in the Space Age" was the topic presented by Rear Admiral Rawson Bennett, Chief of Naval Research, at the Frank Howard Lecture Series last Thursday in Lisner lounge.

Admiral Bennett, a graduate of the Naval Academy, holds an MS in Electrical Engineering along with the Legion of Merit and several fellowships. In the past he has helped establish the Naval Electronics Laboratory the Electronics Research board.

Calling space an "engineering challenge," he outlined some of the areas of engineering that must be conquered before man can say he has truly conquered space. In accomplishing some of these areas he urged the engineers to "keep an eye out for the unconventional solution" which he felt would solve more "tough" problems than any textbook approach to the solution.

Also at the meeting, four senior engineering students at the University were presented with life memberships in the Alumni association in recognition of their outstanding scholastic ability and leadership in student affairs.

Those honored are Ronald J. Krasdorff, who will receive a Bachelor of Science degree in engineering next month; Robert R. Reining, Jr., who will receive a degree in civil engineering; Gerald W. Renton, degree candidate in mechanical engineering, and Irwin H. Schick, in electrical engineering.

SBA Installs New Officers For 1958-59

THE STUDENT BAR Association elected new officers last week for the 1958-59 school year. Everett Germain is president; Dale Carlisle, day vice president; Don Olexa, night vice president; Tom Smegal, treasurer; Nancy

EVERETT GERMAIN
... SBA Prexy

Provost, secretary; Ed Crump, bookstore treasurer; Louis Oberhauser, bookstore manager; Gordon Stafford and Herb Morrison, day delegates, and Sam Clifton and Don Kohl, night delegates.

The Student Bar Association (SBA) is the governing body of the Law School student body. The elected delegates plus four appointed persons serve as a Board of Governors for the school. The Student Council representative and representative from the Law School newspaper, Amicus Curiae, are appointed by the board. The Case club also appoints a member to the board, while the board chooses a representative from the Junior Bar of the District of Columbia and for the American Law Students Association.

President's Duties

The president of SBA, as executive officer of the board is directly responsible for all SBA-sponsored activities. Committees headed by various delegates to the board are then appointed to direct the SBA activities. As yet no definite positions have been delegated to any of the board members.

The Board of Governors meets every two weeks during the school year and is in charge of the SBA budget and activities. Preparation of a report of SBA activities to send to the American Law Student's Association is the most important job of the president, according to Mr. Carlisle. He added that in the last three years of competition with other schools for outstanding SBA in the nation, the University Law School has placed first twice and has been runner-up once.

SBA Projects

Other SBA-sponsored projects include the annual Law Day banquet and ball. There are general panel discussions and speeches of current interest to law students at Law Day functions.

Other programs under the jurisdiction of the SBA are film series of legal interest to law students, orientation programs, conferences with other law schools in the area, a summer picnic and professional meetings featuring guest speakers from various fields of law practice.

Amicus Curiae is also sponsored by the SBA.

Each semester law students pay a $3.00 activities fee for the operation of the SBA. This money is partially used for the publication of a law student directory which includes a listing of students in the school, their addresses and phone numbers, as well as general and specific information about the law school and the SBA.

BUSINESS FRATERNITY TAKES MARVIN AS HONORARY MEMBER

... President Marvin (left) was awarded honorary membership in Alpha Kappa Psi at the annual Awards and Founders' Day Banquet at the national professional business fraternity's Beta Mu Chapter at George Washington. With President Marvin is Morley C. Townsend, national president of Alpha Kappa Psi (center), and Beta Mu Chapter President Robert A. Wilhelm (right). The banquet, held Friday evening, May 9, at Arlington Towers, marked the 25th anniversary of Beta Mu Chapter. President Marvin addressed the initial meeting of the group twenty-five years ago.

Library Exhibits Callander Prints

• BLACK AND WHITE photographs by Don Callander of the Public Relations Office will be on exhibit in the University library until June 4.

Mr. Callander's exhibit appears on the second floor. On the first floor is an exhibition of prints and print processes illustrating important traditional techniques of print-making. This was prepared by Chester Leich.

The second floor exhibit includes photographs of Dean Elmer L. Kayser, Professor Myron L. Koenig and Dean Benjamin D. Van Evera. Among Mr. Callander's other photographs are "Winter's Night," "Christmas," "Camera Man" and "Easter Sermon."

Mr. Leich studied art in Europe for five years. His prints "are meant not to convey the idea that technique is all that is to be considered, but to tell something about the resources of the printmaker's craft, and to suggest the richness and scope of the world of prints." They include "Comanche Dance," "Constitution Avenue," "Fishing Fleet" and "Ducks."

Other photographs exhibited by Mr. Callander are "Dignity," "Country Lane," "Pattern," "Pathology Laboratory," "The Workman Rests," "Mary Lee," "Mr. John S. Toomey," "Acetylsalicylic Acid," "Red Cross," "On An Island" and "Washington Circle."

The art exhibits are open from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., Monday through Friday; 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, and from 2:00 to 6:00 p.m. on Sunday.

"Me run for class president?" I said with mockery in my voice, "why I can't even run for a bus!" That's how uncomfortable my underwear was in those days. But my roommate solved everything. He got me to try tailored-to-fit Jockey brand briefs. What a difference!

"I felt so comfortable—so poised—and I acquired a trim, athletic look that I knew would impress the masses. Running for office was easy now, so I ran and won. And I owe it all to Jockey brand briefs, the only underwear that's tailored from 13 separate pieces to provide a perfectly smooth fit."

We Think . . .

"Average" Year

• TOMORROW RINGS DOWN the curtain on another school year, a year which the Board of Editors feel must be labeled "average."

In some places the University made notable advancements, in others it remained stagnant, and in still others, it slipped a little.

We started the year in great fashion by acquiring John Quincy Adams Hall for boys and Dolly Madison Hall for girls. The purchase of these two buildings alleviated the serious dormitory problem somewhat. On the debit side, however, still remains the problem of parking. New Colonials, Inc., parking lots have been built, but only the one parking lot is available to the students.

On the whole, sports at the University was adequate. We dropped considerably in football, but improved tremendously in basketball. Our record in spring sports once again was the best in the Southern Conference.

The organ which had some of its prestige rubbed off was the Student Council. The short-lived Organization for Student Action proved to be the disorganizing force among the Council. Despite the touchy situation, we feel that Al Rode did a good job as president and deserves special praise.

As for the HATCHET, we continued to express and lead opinion, which is our duty as a newspaper. We criticized—May Day, Council elections, OSA; we congratulated and tried to get support for various university functions; we were even satirical—the editorials on the snow, the flu epidemic and OSA.

After looking at everything which has happened during the past two semesters, and as much as the Board of Editors would like to admit otherwise, we feel that this year has not been anything exceptional.

TO THE EDITORS:

• IN THE ARTICLE written by Tove Neville, April 22, concerning the Student Art Exhibit, I find the comparison of John Neal's painting "Studio Corner With Still Life" with Gauguin's work a completely unprecedented one. The unfairness of comparing an unknown artist to a master of Gauguin's scope is obvious. The Student Exhibit certainly wasn't intended to be a showing of great master Artisans and I doubt that the exhibitors care to be compared with artists of Gauguin's stature.

• APRIL SHOWERS BRING May flowers, showers and exams. But all is not lost; the mobs of camera-clad, bus-roofed tourists can't be wrong. Washington is as alive as we aren't these days, and here are some of its May highlights.

The fifteenth American Music Festival is on at the National Gallery of Art. It is free, and there are concerts every Sunday night at 8. At the Washington Cathedral, on May 29 at 8:30 p.m., the Washington and Cathedral Choral Societies are going to present the Bach B Minor Mass. French students (and/or labor exchange students) take notice: at the Phillips Gallery, there will be a French program on May 26, at 8:30 p.m.

At the National Theatre, from May 19-June 14, the Broadway hit, "Diary of Anne Frank," will be presented. This is a sensitive, moving drama about the war and its effects on a hiding family, as recorded by a young girl. At the Arena Stage, "Summer of the 17th Doll" is being given until May 25. This was a success in London, and its Australian author has noted some excellently perceptive comments about people.

For June brides (I'm not saying what year) and their counterparts, there is a contemporary architecture exhibit at the Corcoran Gallery. Entitled "Living Today," the exhibit includes interior decoration and furniture.

Incidentally, Pete Seeger is singing on May 29, and Josh White on June 23. If anyone can get to New York this month, he'll be lucky if he can get in to see Paul Robeson, in his return engagement May 23. It's all sold-out, but standees are usually accepted.

Outdoor Fun

Skyline Drive is always there and always beautiful. Carter Barron is grand for an outdoor, musical atmosphere. And, the George Washington University will feature its Summer Carnival in July.

If you're still lacking something to do during the day, why not try summer school?

McKnight Plans Stage Career

by Glendon D. Willey

• LIFT YOUR HEAD up high and take a walk in the sun! This might be a Broadway director's advice one day to Carolyn McKnight.

Carolyn, a freshman speech major and a native Washingtonian, is an avid and devoted student of the theatre and hopes to make it her career. She took her first step on the long hard road to stardom at the age of five as a model. Subsequently, she appeared as a cover girl for various local magazines and finally reached the stage of the Children's Theatre of Washington. She has played five seasons of summer stock with the Crossroads Theatre in Virginia, and currently is a member of the Montgomery and Kensington Players.

TV Series

Her most recent triumph in an associated field of the theatre was in the fall when she appeared in a local series on WMAL television. She played a variety of roles ranging from an alcoholic to the sister of a paranoid. The series was sponsored by the District Health Department and was part of its program of education through drama.

Carolyn said that throughout her drama work, Helen Hayes, first lady of the American stage, has been her inspiration. She had the pleasure of renewing acquaintance with Miss Hayes recently when the latter appeared at the National Theatre.

Even with all this outside activity, Carolyn has found time to participate in many university affairs. She is a member of Alpha Theta Nu, scholarship holders' honorary; Student Liaison Committee; Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority; Big Sis; Dance Production Groups; the holder of a high school scholarship; and a past member of O.S.A.

O.S.A. Impact

When asked about the impact of O.S.A. at the university she said, "O.S.A. created a stimulus to increase interest in campus life which was demonstrated by the recent record number of votes and interest in the Student Council election." Carolyn, reflecting on her first year at the University, said that the happiest moment was when the Kappa Gamma Pledge Class won the Goat Show. She was director for the group.

Chemise Again Under Attack

• (ACP) ONLY TWICE in the world's history has the style of women's clothes violated the basic figure. Philip Henderson, assistant professor of design, University of Kansas, pointed out in the Daily Kansan.

As a designer and as a man, Henderson doesn't like the new look. "The basic principle of women's fashion is to enhance the figure's natural form," he said. "The chemise destroys the waistline, always an essential to the feminine style."

"Generally the more beautiful and flattering a style is the longer it lasts." He gives the chemise "a couple of years."

It should only last this long due to the natural stubbornness of woman, which is proverbial. Parisian stylists bring out a new style and women must wear it. If their husbands and sweethearts object, this hardens their determination to stick it out. But can they really enjoy wearing a "sack"?

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESKThe Last Word

by ERNEST AUERBACH

• THE PHILOSOPHY GUIDING a newspaper is basic to its existence, and in this last editorial comment of mine, I would like to explain the philosophy of the HATCHET.

A student newspaper has two responsibilities to its readers. The first is a full and objective presentation of the news, and an adult manner, always letting us know whether they are happy or unhappy with the paper, but never trying to influence or censor us. President Marvin has consistently stood by the HATCHET when others would quiet our policy. Dean Linton of the Publications Committee and our advisor, Professor Willson, always give us the best of their knowledge.

A University should be a training ground for mature action and a realistic point of view. If the newspaper of a University community is not to be a sterile and colorless announcement sheet, its editors should work to inject their opinions in the editorial columns. The newspaper then is serving its community with leadership and meeting its responsibility.

Do Americans' Chewing Gum Build New Bone Structure

by Patricia Brett

• WHEN JULIO CAMBA, one of Spain's renowned essayists, visited the United States, he noted the following:

"It's said that the Frenchman is very decorated and that he eats a lot of bread. The American, on the other hand, is without decorations, and he chews a lot of gum."

"Chewing gum is the grand national vice of the United States. It is the perfumed and extremely soft gum which they sell in the form of tablets. I have often seen 15 or 20 people in a row opening and closing their mouths as if they were fish."

"Last year Americans chewed gum to the value of $30,000,000. That is to say, they spent almost as much on chewing gum as a city in Spain spends on food. The figure is astounding because, although there are people who use a new piece of gum each time they masticate, there are others who guard and stretch their chewing gum to make it last for several weeks."

"Everyone chews gum in America—the rich and the poor, the young and the old. The habit constitutes something in common among the different races. Little by little chewing gum may create a facial characteristic typically American. If this results, a future American will be able to say that in order to form him, million of dollars were thrown into the melting pot of the races for gum. The United States is stuck with gum; they are the Gummen States."

Do you think that this is a valid criticism? For instance, take a look at the people sitting around you now reading the HATCHET. How many are chewing gum? Do you think we are developing into a race of chipmunk-cheeked individuals due to our national pastime of chewing? Will future generations be able to analyze Americans by their facial structure? It is an interesting thought.

Oh, by the way, if you go by Leo's, buy me a pack of gum.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

by Hester Heale

NOW IT'S TIME to say good-bye to all the family—Hester Heale, Mickey Mouse, etc. On a more serious note, Hester had a wonderful year telling stories you wanted told but that you wouldn't tell yourself.

SAE started off the last official social weekend of the year with a high-class TGIF party on Friday afternoon. The party was planned around a modern jazz concert by Joe Rinaldi and his group currently at the Flame. The featured vocalist was Miss Toni Price, who everyone concurred was the greatest. This affair was a great idea as was obvious from the large attendance. The house was jammed and the free beer exhausted. Saturday night the brothers held their annual Pre-Ocean City party which was a blast as usual. See enjoying something or other were: Bill Blocker and Helene Harper DG, Jerry Sluger and Eltheer Warfield, KKG, Tom McHan and Jan Martinez, DG, Dan Taylor and Lee Russell, Chi O, John LaGorce and Bobbie Wash, Chi O, Kitty Hyland (after all I should get in here somewhere) and Billy Frank, Frannie Gleason and Nancy Kallis. (We hear that Precinct No. 3 has plans for some new door knobs as a result of some extra money taken in Saturday night. How about it Frannie and Billy?) This covers only a few of the party group, but I just can't seem to remember the rest. But I can tell you this: Wylye Barrow was there with some Sig friends.

The DG's had a blast at a fabulous party given by Cissie Anderson following the All-U-Follies Friday night. A combo was featured (not as good maybe as Joe Rinaldi, but perfect for dancing). Part of the attraction of the party was the beautiful home at which it was held. Swimming pool, large patio, glass walls and many rooms, made for a great affair. Some of the gay swimmers included Beth Oliver, DG, and Boots Busky, Sigma Chi, guess who and Billy Frank, SAE, Bob Price, SAE, and a few others with no sense. The more conservative group dancing to the combo included Bill Medina, Delt, and Mary Ann Alderson, Cathy Foresher and Neil Stull, SAE, Frannie Gleason and Imelda Chavez Miller, DG Prexy Nancy Oliver and Jerry Cornelius, Delt, Bisquit LaBosquet, Pi Phi, and John Bachman, Delt, Bill Talantino, Delt, and Bev McGee and Tom Talantino (guest from Dickenson), and Sally Walker, DG.

The climax of the evening was the presentation of the DG Anchor Man, Bill Medina of Delt. Bill was presented the Order of the Anchor (a silver anchor swinging on bronze, pink and blue ribbons). Mr. Medina obliged everyone by swimming the length of the pool to receive his anchor, and following the presentation was serenaded by the DG's.

Cruise, booze, blow a fuze, strike it rich, etc. Sound incoherent? Well it should, after all the fun last Saturday on the Colonial Cruise. The postponement date didn't hold back about 100 Colonials—loyal and true—from cruising down the old Potomac to Marshall Hall. Things got off to a big start when the co-chairmen of the Children's Committee, Sig J. P. Donley and ZTA Maggie Cannon, dropped a last dime in one of the One Armed Bandits and won the jackpot—$12.00 in dimes. Pictures of a major crisis then developed for the two chairmen of the kiddies' committee when no children showed up on the cruise. But no problem; all the big kiddies—G. W. variety—gladly competed in such things as throwing eggs, breaking balloons, a chug-a-lug contest (plans originally called for the little ones to chug chocolate milk). The polka contest concluded the day's schedule of fun-filled activities and Delt Kyler Craven and Theta Mimi Sildell were the champions.

Spotted on the Cruise were co-chairman Kathy Blackburn, Kappa, and Delt Tom Topping, the other co-chairman Hal Bergem, Sigma Chi, and Theta Ann Connealy, Sig Bob Sneed and Theta Jan Baldauf, Delt Jim Jennings and Wandering Greek Anne Massay, Delt John Whiting and AEPi Elaine Cohen, Gene Posati and AEPi T. C. Aronoff, Sigma Nu John Harrison and Pi Phi Sharon Roenigan, Delt Will Hinley and Kappa Becky Henzl, Sig Dwayne Harkleroad and Nancy Cooper, John Lilly and Kappa Marilyn Hogenson, and Meredith Eagon, whose better half, had to stay home—to write a paper??? Thanks to my concerted effort, everyone caught the boat on time.

Hester was a bad girl and forgot to include in her past column about Tommy Varley being crowned Sweetheart of KKG on Sunday, April 27th, at the KKG-Sigma Chi picnic. He was presented in splendor with a beautiful robe, a heavy crown, a key, a sparkling ring and a scepter. (Tommy, our bet for Ocean City is off—you are richer than I am.)

The Tep House was the center of much activity last Sunday as the Tepmen threw their annual Parents Day in honor of not only the mothers but also the fathers. Tours were given around the university and topping off the afternoon was a turkey buffet supper for everyone. Seen serving were Ellie Katz, Lolly Loeb, and Anne Kirshenbaum. (Poor Ellie. I got her mixed up with Letty one week and almost cost her a boy friend.) It was a surprise to find out later that Joe Shapiro, Stan Orlinsky, and Larry Alpert helped with the cooking. Afterwards a discussion was held on bettering parent-student relationships (just don't try to tell me you solved it). The brothers are already looking forward to this event next year.

AEPi announces that: Diane Sugar, National Phi Alpha Sweetheart, is engaged to past Phi Alpha (of course) prexy, Richie Pincus; Nancy Ackerman became Sweetheart of the AEPi chapter at the University of Delaware recently; and Brenda Friedenberg is going steady with Sol Snyder of Georgetown.

The girls of Sigma Kappa and their dates tried to hold a picnic at Great Falls last Sunday. However, the weather soon proved to be acting naughty. Headed by Nancy Abbott and Roger Erickson, the picnickers escaped the rain and sought refuge on the Abbott's porch. Among the crowd eating packed lunches and listening to Nancy's stimulating record, Tahitian Drums, were: Jane Branteste and TKE Paul Chasey, Gretchen Von Rosenberg and Jorge Ramirez, Nancy Mitchell and TKE Vince Finelli, little Sandy Ford and Jim Lansing.

The Pikes held their annual Dream Girl Dance at the Court House Country Club, Saturday night. The climax of the evening was the crowning of the new Pike Dream Girl, Miss Nancy Koontz, DG, and the announcement of new officers. The new president of Pike is Ed Creel and Marion Hoar is the new veep. The Outstanding Pledge award went to Jake Lay and the Outstanding Active award to John Keen. Bill Johnson received a special award as Outstanding Intramural Contributor. Seen dancing to the music of the Corsairs were: Rosina Orr, DG, and John Beaver, Al Schneider (the human brillo pad) and Bev Boyer, Rus Niosi and Ann Marie Smeeringer, KKG, Vance Redman and DG Betty Wallace.

Thus Foggy Bottom ends another year and Hester hopes you'll study hard for finals and she'll see you all at Ocean City.

Smithsonian Exhibits Churchill Art; Student Attends and Reviews Show

by Tove Neville

THE RIGHT HONORABLE Sir Winston Churchill invites you cordially to view an exhibit of his paintings at the Smithsonian Institution until May 18. This artist is none other than that good old Winnie, one of the ten top ranking geniuses of this mad war—and wind-blown century, who with sweat, blood, and tears went to war and exhibited some of the most impressive statesmanship ever seen since the beginning of diplomacy.

Perhaps you wonder what kind of painter this fabulous political figure might be. Is he a Sunday painter who dabbles with a limp brush to relieve the headaches of international crisis? Emphatically no! His works are expressive of his vigorous and most individual personality and show indisputable creative ability. In fact one suspects that he must have sprung full-fledged from the forehead of Zeus like Athena, for even the earliest paintings display a fully developed style, and his wise mature conception seems a peaceful parallel to the victorious, warlike spirit of his professional career. There are no changes in style from time to time, but the mood painting, "Sunset Through Fog" of 191, is just as well realized as the bold study, "Venice" of 1951. The former shows a black tree in a grey mist with black, threatening clouds. The one intense burst of orange between the clouds is the very essence of sunshine. "Venice" is a more direct statement in which the paint is applied heavily with a palette knife. It is a view of the Grand Canal with the Rialto Bridge, and the delicate blue of the water and sky, the pink and yellow of the houses, are contracted with a brilliant red-orange banner jutting out from a balcony.

Impressionism

In studying these paintings, certain tendencies and preferences emerge to disclose the main preoccupation of Sir Winston, the painter, are. It appears that he has a special love and fascination for trees and water in all kinds of combinations and variation. Out of 35 canvases, 17 of them have water as part of their subject in the form of a pool, a lake, or the sea. One of the most outstanding of these is "Sunset Cannes," of 1933, in which Churchill uses an impressionistic technique that reminds one of Monet. He shows us a most unusual view of the famous resort town, for we see only a narrow line of houses at the top of the canvas while more than two thirds of it is water reflecting the pink and yellow of the houses as pastel faces on the Mediterranean blue. The reflection of objects on water is apparently something more interesting to him than the objects themselves, for there are a number of paintings using this approach.

In Churchill's art as in his

... Painted in 1932, by Sir Winston Churchill

statesmanship, we find radical approaches as the two above as well as conservative points of view. His "Mimizan Lake," of 1922, is quite conventional though with the Churchillian touch. The paint qualities of the lake and stress in the background look quite smooth and without detail while the foreground with a yellow flowering bush is drawn with strong brush strokes to give the illusion of detail and naturalism. Two realistic seascapes, both from 1948, are "Rock Near Cannes" and "Vaucluse" and here we see reflections as well as the bottom through the water. Another late painting, "Black Swans At Chartwell," draws the delicate shapes of the birds on the pale blue water at the summer home of the Churchills, and the very late stone, "View of La Pausa, Roquebrune," of 1957, shows us the water through the trees at the location on the French Riviera where Sir Winston was staying during his recent illness.

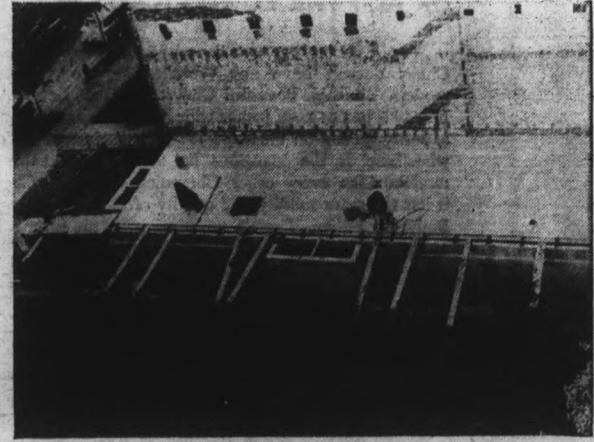

One painting, which has been called the favorite of museum visitors, is the humorous and very masculine "Bottlescape," of 1932. The title itself is original with the artist, and the solid appreciation of the good things in life is expressed here. The bottles of all kinds of wines and liqueurs stand invitingly on parade, and he even tempts us with a couple of filled glasses which look so realistically inviting that one expects they are just waiting to be picked up and drained. The colors are red and yellow, besides, tans, and browns.

Twenty-one of the pictures were painted between 1916 and 1936, but none from 1936 until 1945 when he resumed his hobby after World War II. The remaining 14 span the years up to the present day. Are we surprised to see what a capable painter Sir Winston is? Hardly, for here is a man who would do nothing but excellently well at whatever he tries his hand.

CHEMICAL VAULT

... Nearing Completion

LaSalle Wins 'Val' Meet

• THE GEORGE WASHINGTON crew had its big chance to gain national prominence in the Dad Vail Regatta, but couldn't quite make the grade.

Each year, crews from Eastern colleges vie for the Dad Vail Cup, and the winner is hailed the best small school crew in the East. In competition this year were La Salle, Fordham, Purdue, Amherst, George Washington, Tampa, Jacksonville, Rollins, Brown, Drexel Tech., Wayne State, American Institute and St. Johns.

La Salle came from behind to beat Fordham and take the cup. Fordham had a half-length lead 100 yards from the finish line, but the La Salle Explorers rallied in the rough, wind-swept Schuylkill River in Philadelphia to overtake the Rams and win by a few inches.

The Colonial crew came in fifth out of six shells in its qualifying heat. The first two shells of each went into the finals, and the next two into the place race. In its heat the Buff crew missed qualifying for the place race by eight inches.

Third Year

La Salle's victory means that the Explorers will get the coveted Dad Vail Cup for the third successive year, although earlier this year, Fordham defeated La Salle in a match on the Harlem River.

This was the first year of inter-collegiate racing for the Colonial crew. Two weeks ago they finished a close second behind Fordham, and had hoped to make a good showing in the Dad Vail. Next Saturday, George Washington will meet the newly organized Georgetown crew in the first meeting of what is hoped will be an annual event between the two schools.

Finals—Doubles

No. 1 division: Jim Tarr and Jack Tarr defeated Toby Perry and Jeff Dixon, W and M, 6-2, 6-2. No. 2 division: Saul Liebowitz and John Bouquet defeated Fred Bickus and Jim Jeffrey, the Citadel, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2. No. 3 division: Dave Pearsall and Doug Orr, Davidson, defeated Jim Whitehead and Erwin Shorr, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

This year George Washington ended up with a 9-2 record. The Colonial net-men blanked their Southern Conference rivals throughout the season and walked away from the Southern Conference Tournament with the first place cup under their belt. Their only losses were in the Cherry Blossom Tournament to Michigan and Notre Dame, who are considered to be two of the finest inter-collegiate teams in the country.

The highlight of the season, the match with North Carolina, was rained out, as was the matches with William & Mary, Brown, and Richmond.

Finals—Singles

No. 1 division: Jim Tarr defeated Toby Perry, W and M, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4. No. 2 division: Jack Tarr defeated Bill McWilliams, W and L, 6-2, 6-4. No. 3 division: Saul Liebowitz defeated Tom McCutchen, 6-3, 6-0. John Bouquet rounded out his fourth year on the squad by beating Mauricio Glauer, W and L, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3. Freshman Jim Whitehead came in runner-up in the No. 5 singles class.

In doubles the Buff courtmen again led the way. In the No. 1 doubles division the Tarr brothers quickly put down Toby Perry and Jeff Dixon of William and Mary, 6-2, 6-2. Liebowitz and Bouquet took the No. 2 doubles crown by virtue of their victory over Fred Bickus and Jim Jeffrey, the Citadel, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2. In No. 3 doubles Davidson's Dave Pearsall and Doug Orr defeated Whitehead and Erwin Shorr in the finals, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

Riflers Take National Title

• THE G. W. WOMEN'S rifle team won their second national championship last Saturday in the National Intercollegiate Shoulder-to-Shoulder Championship.

Earlier this season the women's team won the National Intercollegiate Women's Rifle Championship in a postal match. These two matches are the only women's indoor, 3-position, intercollegiate matches.

Leading scorer on Saturday was team captain Helen Skopic with a total of 277 points. She was followed by Elizabeth Clark, 265; Sidney Hinkel, 260; Nadya Kayaloff, 246; Marjorie Spencer, 243.

In the individual match Elizabeth Clark, firing for her first year on the team, shot a 280 to rank fourth nationally among women. Helen Skopic ranked fifth.

The match, which was held at the U. S. Naval Academy, was entered by 200 men's and women's teams and 1000 individuals. The G. W. men's team placed 25th with a score of 1404. Firing for the men's team were Paul Nordquist, Courtney Schlosser, Ian Rule, Julian Seidel, and Dave Hertig.

The 1956 Men's All-American teams were announced on Thursday. Paul Nordquist, G. W.'s No. 1 shooter, was named first on the second team. Last year Nordquist received a golden bullet for being named to the first team.

Nadya Kayaloff has become the fourth woman in Colonial history to receive the National Rifle Association's "Expert" award. The award is given by the association when a candidate has shot certain specified scores. Two other G. W. students to receive the award are Helen Skopic and Mary McEwan (coach of the Women's rifle team).

Individual women's scores were:

Helen Skopic	100	95	82	277
Elizabeth Clark	100	90	85	275
Sidney Hinkel	96	89	75	260

G. W. Golfers Finish Strong, Tie Davidson In S. C. Tourney

• GEORGE WASHINGTON'S DEFENDING golf champions made up a six-stroke deficit in the final 18-hole round Wednesday to tie the Davidson-Wildcats for the team title in the annual Southern Conference golf tournament.

The Colonial golfers posted a team total of 300 for the second 18-hole round of the par 70 Danville Golf Club course, giving them a two-day score of 609. Davidson matched that with a 306 to go with Tuesday's 303 finish. William and Mary posted a 299, the best score of the final day, for a 36-hole total of 611 and third place over the 6147-yard course.

The Buff won the flip of a coin to determine which team would take home the championship trophy, but a duplicate will be presented to the Wildcats and the teams will be declared co-champions. William and Mary was awarded the runnerup trophy.

Individual Trophy

Bucky Dennis of Davidson, the first day's leader with the only par round of the tournament, fired a five-over-par 75 Wednesday, but still finished with a two-stroke advantage over Furman's Heyward Sullivan for the individual championship with a 145. Sullivan had rounds of 72, 75-147.

Tied for third place at 149, were two William and Mary stars, Walter Lawrence and Ken Rice. Rice shared Wednesday's low round honors with George Washington's

Spring Sports

• IF THE BASEBALL team wins the conference crown, G. W. will be S. C. champions in the three spring sports for the second consecutive year.

Warren Krick, adding a 72 to his 77 of Tuesday. Lawrence posted a final 74 after shooting a 75 for the opening 18 holes.

Jay Randolph

The defending individual champion, Buff captain, Jay Randolph, was fifth with a 74, 76-150. That was eight strokes higher than the fine 142 that won him the title a year ago.

In a three-way tie at 152 were the Colonial's Warren Krick, last year's runnerup; Joe Haney (G. W.), and Johnny Cooke of Virginia Tech.

There's an important future ahead for the men who wear these wings

The Air Force pilot or navigator is a man of many talents. He is, first of all, a master of the air—and no finer exists. In addition, he has a firm background in engineering, electronics, astro-navigation and allied fields. Then, too, he must show outstanding qualities of initiative, leadership and self-reliance. He is, in short, a man eminently prepared for an important career in the new Age of Space.

As a college graduate, you will be given priority consideration for the Air Force Aviation Cadet Program. While openings are limited, you will be tested and advised immediately of qualification status. Find out if you measure up. Paste the attached coupon on a post card and mail it now.

SAE, PiKA Forfeit; Playoffs Rescheduled

by Bob Lipman

• THE ENTIRE INTRAMURAL softball championship was turned upside-down yesterday when two ineligible players were found playing in the championship game.

Ron Bierwagon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Steve Chase of Pi Kappa Alpha were declared ineligible by Vincent DeAngelis, head of the intramural department. S. A. E. beat the Pikes, 7-2, in the final game on Sunday to win the intramural softball trophy, but Bierwagon had lettered last year in baseball and Chase was not listed on PiKA's rolls in the Dean of Men's office.

DeAngelis said that Bierwagon is ineligible to play for S. A. E. until the 1959-60 season. Intramural rules clearly state that any man who has lettered in a sport can not participate in that sport until he has sat out for two full school years.

The S. A. E.'s and Bierwagon said that they had no knowledge of the rule and the team thought that since Bierwagon had not gone out for varsity baseball this year he would be considered eligible.

PiKA's Chase not being on the official Pike rolls in Dr. Faith's office seems to be an oversight. The Pikes admit Chase's status is neither an active or a pledge. Chase had previously pledged but had not paid his initiation fee and couldn't be installed as a member.

DeAngelis has ruled that the entire playoffs will take place again. The games will be played lately. The A league champ was S. A. E., but Delta Tau Delta had to beat S. P. E. last Saturday to gain the runner-up spot. League AA also was mixed up, because Phi Alpha had to play an extra game with Delta Theta Phi to gain the playoffs along with the Pikes.

The Med B team was the league B winner but the Engineering school had to beat AEPI's B team in an extra game to decide the runner-up. The only league which had two winners at the regular season's end was the BB league which had the Med D team as the champ and Phi Alpha's B team as the runner-up.

In the B leagues, the Med B team beat the Med D team for the championship, while Phi Alpha's B squad defeated the Eng. school for third place.

In the disputed A league S. A. E. rapped the Pikes on two home runs by Franny Gleason and the fine pitching of Henry Frain to almost win the championship.

Al Gallani, Pi Kappa Alpha rightfielder, makes a grab of a line drive in the championship game with S.A.E. The Pikes lost the game 7-2, but S.A.E. used an ineligible player and will have to forfeit the two games they won in the playoffs.

Cherry Trees

• STUDENTS MAY PICK up their copy of the Cherry Tree in the Student Union lobby through this Wednesday. Those individuals who ordered a copy are responsible for picking it up; no books will be mailed. Extra Cherry Trees were ordered and are on sale for $6.50.

on Thursday morning at 10:00 a.m. with the same pairings that had been used in the previous playoffs. S. A. E. will play Phi Alpha and Delta Tau Delta will take on PiKA.

Last Sunday the S. A. E.'s romped through the playoff games with ease, beating Phi Alpha, 4-2, and whipping PiKA. All the teams that participated in the playoffs consider S. A. E. to be the superior team. Bierwagon was of little help to S. A. E. He got one hit in the two games he played in and did not sparkle in the field.

Chase, meanwhile, was a great asset to PiKA. Chase was a fine defensive man in left field and really powered the ball at bat.

The extension of the softball season only affects the winner of the softball title and has no bearing on the intramural race. The Med School has already been declared the winner and was awarded the All-University Intramural trophy last night at the intramural department's annual dinner at Welling Hall.

Alpha Epsilon Pi was given the runner-up cup. The race for the coveted first-place trophy wasn't even close. The Meds made a romp of the race near the end of the season. AEPI and Sigma Chi were fighting desperately to get the second-place cup. AEPI beat out the SX's by 27 points.

DeAngelis commented that he hopes further disputes of this type would be avoided. "If participants would only read the rules which are in the intramural handbook that the intramural department publishes every year, incidents of this type need never come up."

The ineligibility ruling is old stuff to the Pikes. Last year in football Mike Sileo of PiKA was declared ineligible because Sileo had lettered in football the season before Pike had played him. The Pikes had to forfeit four games and any chance they had to win the intramural football trophy.

All the leagues were in a muddle because of the rain that the Washington area has been having

Colonial Nine Tops VPI

• THE COLONIAL baseball team took a doubleheader from V.P.I., 7-3 and 9-4, and raised their season record to 6-2 in the Southern Conference on Friday.

The Buff batsmen broke loose with 28 hits, 14 in each game, and knocked out two V.P.I. pitchers in the two-nighter at Blacksburg, Va. Leading the Colonial hitting parade with home runs were Sam Knisley and Gino D'Ambrosio. Frank Campana, star rookie hurler for the Colonials, pitched his fifth victory of the season without a defeat in the opening game. Campana scattered nine hits as he became the Buff's winningest hurler of the season.

George Bickerton, who has been having his troubles this season after a fine performance last year, got into trouble in the fifth inning of the second game and had to be relieved by G. W.'s "short man" Dennis Hill (5'5" Buff rookie hurler), who finished the game.

Rain

The Colonials were scheduled to meet W&L Saturday, but the game was rained out. The Buff nine, defending Southern Conference champions, have been severely hampered this year by rain.

With only three Southern Conference games remaining, a doubleheader with V.M.I. and one with Furman, the Colonials are in second place behind Richmond. Richmond has a 6-1 record while the Buff stand 6-2.
